

Amateur Radio General License Class 2023

Free Training – The only cost is materials & test fee.

Presented by Seneca Radio Club W8ID

Seneca County Training Room

Starting October 23, 2023, from 6:00pm to 9:00pm

The class will be 8 weeks, meeting Monday night each week, skipping the second Mondays of each month which is the club meeting night.

Seneca Radio Club will be offering a General License class this October. Classes will run on Monday evenings beginning October 23rd, and end with the License Exam in December. Classes normally run from 6:00 PM till 8:30 or 9:00 PM.

We use the ARRL materials for the class, available from ARRL.org and other sources. The ARRL materials we typically use in class including a PowerPoint presentation (which matches the manual) as our lecture basis. We will provide "color commentary" with the slide show, hands-on experience and demonstrations, and discussions with a group of local hams with extensive experience in various aspects of Amateur Radio.

Although there is no charge for the instruction, students are expected to provide their own study guides, and there is a nominal fee required for the licensing exam at the end. The ARRL does offer other training materials as well. These can enhance your learning but are not required. If you are interested, please Email Dan AC8NP at AC8NP@AC8NP.COM We look forward to seeing you this January

All of us are excited about the opportunity to present another class in Seneca County and our response to the initial class was just super. There are plenty of opportunities to enjoy Amateur Radio, from contesting to using our local repeaters, HF DX'ing, digital and data modes, amateur television and of course Morse code or CW as we call it. Amateur Radio works when all else fails.

Hams are all about helping each other and we'd love to have you with us in January. More information is available on the Seneca Radio Club Website <http://w8id.org>

ARRL Course book will be about $32.95, and the ARRL test is $15.00
